Fifteen Companies of Fire Department Called Out Yesterday.

Fifteen companies of the Fire Department were called out yesterday by five alarms from as many boxes. One proved to be a falso alarm, and none of the others was of consequence. The first came from the Model barber-shop, on East Main Street, where the cellar caught fire from a water-heater explosion. It was soon smothered. Other alarms came from Ninth and Leigh Streets and from Venable and Mosby, where small fires were found and soon put out. There were several still alarms.

IN MEMORIAM

WILLS.—The funeral of JAMES W. WILLS will take place from Denny Street Church THIS (Sunday) APTISKNOON at 3 coclock, Interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

A light is from our household gone A voice we loved is stilled; A place is vacant in our home That never can be filled.

Long hours ago he fell on sleep, Leaving us here sad and lone, Who learned through sorrow to weer For the light of our life had gone All through the long hours that have flown,

There has scarcely been half an hour
Wherein my heart hasn't lonely borne Traces of his love and power.

Can I cease to love and miss him? Nay! Rather ask if waters flow Uphill, or are e'er without attr. While lonely on through life I go.

And while I long for a brother's kiss And pine for one loving embrace Although him more each hour I miss Yearning to look into his face,

Where serrow is on every hand, Where we know no peace except sleep,
In this cruel and unjust land.

But I know he is ever with me, In spirit as well as when in Real life and I could him see. In this world of turmoil and sin.

Prescriptions

Talk No. 2. The right kind of men to put them up. Our prescription clerks are all registered pharmacists, each one legally and scientifically able to run a drug

But they don't have to run a drug store; all they do from morning till night is to use their expert knowledge for this one purpose. They sell no goods, answer no questions, have their mind on nothing but reading the doctor's prescription, finding out the exact drug, weighing and measuring it carefully and compounding it thoroughly.

Not only this: each prescription, before being dispensed, is checked over for accuracy by the head proscription clerk.
